MONITOR, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, JULY 1 1921.

NO. 2

U.G.G. MEN SENT TO ENGLAND

Seeking new markets for western cattle now practically excluded from the United States through tariff legislation Mr. F. J. Collyer, a Director and Mr. F. M. Black, Treasurer of United Grain Growers Limited, sailed last week for Great Britain. They hope to make arrangements so farmers' cooperative shipments of cattle can be carried through to Old Country markets. They are also to search out an outlet for Western beef on the continent of Europe, wherever conditions are suitable enough to make trade likely.

In the few weeks which have elapsed since the United States imposed a tariff of thirty per cent on all cattle entering that country prices on Canadian livestock markets have fallen severely. This is a time of year when the run of cattle is light and the result on prices of the heavy run of cattle that begins in the fall is bound to be serious. Consequently the Farmers' organizations are making every effort to find an outlet for export cattle before the fall run commences.

Pink Tea and Dance Is Much Appreciated

"Afternoon Tea" certainly seemed to be in style last Saturday afternoon. Hundreds of people from the town and district took advantage of the invitation extended them by the staff of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and the honors were highly done. A fitting close to the day was naturally a dance, and the band boys again "kicked in" with the necessary music. With the exception of the very few who rather desired the orchestra to play than volunteers from the Band, a right happy time was had by the big crowd that stayed for the dance.

A Gentle Reminder

I wish to draw the attention of the public to the fact that any further repetition of damage done to the local Postoffice whether accidental or otherwise, will be followed by prosecution.

Please bear in mind that the Dominion Government does not tolerate such actions and govern yourselves accordingly.

L. O. Gould
Postmaster.

The News is in receipt this week, of a sample of Spring Rye, measuring 53.2 inches in height and in splendid condition. This Rye, was sown on stubble, on the farm of L. O. Gould about 2 1/2 miles south of Monitor. If you doubt us, come in the shop and see for yourself.

Local Happenings

Doc. Larder returned from his visit to Calgary Thursday p.m. of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Vosburgh returned to their home on Friday morning last.

Mr. and Mrs. Laubman, of Provost, were visitors in town at the first of the week.

Mrs. Meiklejohn, of Consort, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Marshman, for a short while.

The weather-man seems to be favoring this particular bit of country all right. Following the big rains last week, the temperature climbed to 87.5 in the

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brink paid Monitor a visit last Sunday. They came from Provost to see a real ball game.

Don't forget the Red Cross meeting in the Big Hall tonight. It is essential that everyone interested be present. Business election of officers for the Monitor Branch.

We still have a few colored paper scribbling pads at the News office. 5 cents each.

The beautiful rain fall that visited us twice last week, has certainly been the saving of the district. Already the crops are showing a wonderful difference. It is estimated that at least 2 inches of rain fell in the one storm. Ye Ed took a spade the following morning, and found that the moisture had penetrated in worked land, to a depth of 11 inches. The rains were accompanied by a little hail but no damage is reported.

McKim's Directory

For 1921 Is Issued

The 1921 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory has been issued—Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg and London, England.

To Messrs. McKim goes the distinction of being the oldest and largest advertising agents in Canada. They are authorities on the newspaper situation in every town and village throughout the Dominion and their annual publication—the Canadian Newspaper Directory is the one authentic record of the standing of Canada's various advertising media.

The 1921 Edition is the 14th. issue of this work. Throughout the thirty years that have ensued since the publication of the first edition, the agency of A. McKim, Limited, and the newspapers of Canada have been growing up side by side and the Canadian Newspaper Directory has built up amongst the publishers and advertisers a reputation for accuracy that causes it to be consulted with the same degree of finality as the standard dictionaries. A circulation rating in the Canadian Newspaper Directory is to the publishers and advertisers of Canada what a rating in Dun's or Bradstreet's is to the financial world.

The 1921 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory is indispensable to everyone connected with publishing and advertising, and not to these fields alone are its uses confined. It will be found invaluable to the salesman planning his itinerary and to the shipper routing his goods. It is a business publication with a thousand and one uses for business men everywhere. Ball Gossip

By our own Correspondent

The new innovation at the Ball park—the score board, seems to be highly appreciated. This beautiful work of art, is the result of the joint efforts of the local dab artists, or artists, Messrs Munro and Warner. It is true some of the figures look like a mid-summer night's dream, but even at that it is quite an improvement.

But of course someone had to spoil it last Tuesday.

Who said Baxter was too old to play?

Verne Sonquist seems right at home on first base. Why not keep him there.

The errors keep on piling up, boys. Watch your feet.

The Rotary Rig of the West Regent Well in the Lead

The cloud burst that hit this district on Wednesday June 22 was not only a God-sent benefit to the farmers. The big dam of the West Regent Co was almost empty—just about three days supply of water left. This wonderful rain filled the dam to the top, and they are now once again working at top pressure. The experts report that they are down close to two thousand feet, and with the additional water supply, another five hundred feet will soon be made. At this depth, it is estimated the precious liquid should almost be in sight. However, it may be necessary to finish the well with standard equipment and in that case, a considerable delay will be experienced. However, the whole district is getting worked up to a fever pitch, and the keenest interest is shown by every one in the development of this well. This particular Rig is being very ably handled by Mr. H. Saunders of Texas. He is beating all records for accomplishment in Alberta for oil drilling.

Mr. Damma, it is learned, will start another hole with his Rotary outfit, as soon as the changes to the standard rig

Who and What Are We?

Is there such a person as a Canadian?

The Government of Canada says there is not. According to the official records there is not one Canadian among the eight or nine million inhabitants of this Dominion. Neither the Premier of Canada, nor any one of the Premiers of the nine Provinces, is a Canadian. They may have been born in Canada, and their parents and grandparents before them, but that makes no difference—they are not Canadians. The Government of Canada says so, and has instructed its army of census officials to record the amazing fact.

Readers of the above may be skeptical of the truth of these assertions, but a little quiet inquiry and investigation on their part will soon establish the correctness of the statements made.

Commencing on June 1st the work of taking the decennial census of Canada was begun and enumerators began visiting the homes of the Dominion armed with official forms and pencil in hand asking questions of all arounding as to their names, age, place of birth, nationality, etc. Coming to the question of nationality, a man or woman born in Canada, very naturally reply that they are Canadian. But Mr. Census-taker retorts that they are not. They may be anything else, but they most assuredly are not Canadians. When these patriotic sons or daughters of Canada insist they are Canadians, first, last and all the time, and nothing else, the faithful servant of the Government of Canada is forced to explain to them that there are no Canadians; the Government does not recognize them at all in the official tabulation of the nationality of the residents of the Dominion.

Mr. Census-taker will then ask: "Where was your father born?" "In Canada," comes the reply. "Where was your mother born?" Again the answer is, "In Canada." "Well, they are not Canadians either," is the dictum. And then Mr. Census-taker will explain that Canada is not a nation and, therefore, there can be no Canadian nationality. He may then ask: "Were your grandparents, or possibly your great-grandparents, Irish?" The ordinary Canadian resident may retort: "What has that got to do with it; Ireland is not a nation. It's even less a nation than Canada. Canada enjoys not only full self-government, but it is a member of the League of Nations on a basis of entire equality with all other nations, which Ireland is not."

The logical force of such an answer is, however, entirely lost upon the Government of Canada. Residents of this Dominion may be classified as Irish, or Scotch, or Welsh, or Hottentot, or Chinese, or Turks—anything almost but Canadian, even though it is necessary to go back prior to the days of Jacques Cartier to find out some remote ancestor born outside the boundaries of the Dominion in order to fix some nationality upon native-born Canadians.

This is not a far-fetched description, because the writer has personal knowledge of an instance where a Canadian-born citizen informed the census enumerator that he had no knowledge of any ancestors but those whose place of birth was Canada, and who was, therefore, recorded by the enumerator as "Nationality unknown."

Yet our politicians and statesmen boast of Canada as a nation. In rounded periods and with great eloquence they dwell upon this Dominion's place among the nations, and the prominent part it plays in the councils of the League of Nations. On all sides exhortations are heard of our duty to Canadianize our new settlers from "foreign" lands. The Canadianizing of all people within our bounds is urged as a foremost Canadian duty and responsibility. Yet when the children of these "New Canadians" proudly say: "I am a Canadian," the Government of Canada officially tells them they are mistaken; they are Germans, or Russians, or Poles, or Austrians, or Italians, but they are not Canadians and never can be, nor can their children.

Children ever be throughout the ages yet to come.

Pick up the official census returns for all past decades and see if you can find that there is a Canadian living in Canada.

Is it not high time that this obsolete, antiquated classification of by-gone years be discarded? Has the time not come when a person born in Canada has a right to be classified as a Canadian and not be compelled to accept official designation of some other nationality which he will never accept for himself personally?

What is the sense of preaching Canadianism and seeking to create and develop a Canadian national sentiment in Canadian literature, a true and lasting pride in Canada and Canadian institutions, if for all time the world is to be officially informed through the publications of the Canadian Government that such a person as a Canadian is non-existent, that this Dominion is still an infant colony of little or no importance inhabited for the time being by English, Scotch, Irish, Welsh, American, German, Austrian, Russian and other peoples?

Canada talking of having its own Minister at Washington; sitting in the councils of the League of Nations, taking its full part in the Great World War, and yet denying to its own native-born sons and daughters the right to the name Canadian presents an anomaly that should be removed. The Ottawa Government had better bestir itself and place itself and the official records of this Dominion in line with real Canadian sentiment and aspirations.

Of Some Use.

Short skirts are coming in for much condemnation at church conferences, but it has remained for Chicago to report that short skirts have caused a much smaller street accident record among women and a much larger one among men. Alberta "Baby" Industry Growing.

One of Alberta's "baby" industries, the Alberta Clay Products Company, has been making a very successful showing. While only in existence a few years, this company is competing with and securing contracts from many larger and older firms. This year their plant is running to capacity, and a considerable number of carload orders have been shipped.

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? If there is you should not be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact they relieve all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Moise Cadotte, Makinik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. Doyle Forced To Live Entirely On Bread And Milk She Declares

"I think it is enough to make anyone happy to enjoy the splendid health I do now," said Mrs. John Doyle, 123 John St., North, Hamilton, Ont.

"Last winter I had the 'flu' and, as I had been in a badly rundown condition for several years, it just seemed to wreck my whole system. All through the winter I was down in bed half the time and instead of getting better, I seemed to get worse. My stomach was so badly upset that I had to live entirely on bread and milk. If I ventured to eat anything else at all I would simply suffer agony."

"I would have terrible pains in my stomach and would bloat up so bad that I often felt as if I was suffocating."

My nerves were worn to a frazzle and I had frequent headaches. I went to bed tired, got up feeling tired and all through the day hardly had the strength to do a thing.

"But I'm so glad I tried Tanlac, because my suffering is all over now. I just feel splendid, eat whatever I wish and never have a touch of indigestion. My nerves are steady and I am free from headaches. I sleep perfectly sound and just feel so much stronger that the housework seems easier than ever. My daughter has taken Tanlac since it restored my health and it has helped her just like it did me. Tanlac has certainly been a blessing in our home."

Weekly Editors Convention is The Best Yet

Editors Convene in Vancouver From whole Dominion

It were impossible for us to go at length and in full detail into our recent trip to attend the second annual Convention of the Canadian Weekly Press Association, but as this event was one of national importance we feel that our readers should be acquainted with the main facts.

The Canadian Weekly Press Association, as its name implies is an organization composed of Weekly publications alone, and has on its roll, practically every weekly newspaper published in Canada. The object of the Association is to promote better journalism, better printing and better methods in the country shops.

At last years meeting which was held in Toronto, it was decided to hold this years gathering in Vancouver, and, thanks to the kindness and consideration of the Canadian Pacific Railways, and the Canadian National Railways, it was made possible for practically every member to be present.

On the 4th of June the Convention met in the beautiful convention hall of the Vancouver Hotel, and after an address of welcome by the Deputy-Mayor of Vancouver, business was started. The members were entertained to lunch by the Canadian Club, and the ladies of the party were taken care of by the Womens Press Club. At the close of the first day of the Convention, the entire party became the guests of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and were conveyed to Spanish Banks, at which pretty spot they were treated to a "Clam-bake". This unique repast was enhanced by sweet music from the 7th Regimental Band, and at the same time many of the visitors found much enjoyment from watching the antics of a big seaplane, which indulged in manouvers for the benefit of the party. On Friday afternoon business the party were taken for an automobile drive, through the prettiest country and on the grandest roads we have ever been fortunate enough to see. We refer, of course, to the wonderful Marine Drive and Stanley Park. On Saturday the party were taken to Victoria and were royally entertained there. One of the large fruit farms were visited, and several of the party suffered from dislocated jaws due to the fact that they had tried to put a whole strawberry into their mouth at once. The return to Vancouver was made on Sunday and the party left per special train the same evening via C. P. R. and receptions were accorded them on arrival at Lake Louise, Banff and Calgary.

Taken on the whole, the trip through the Rockies was perhaps the most impressive part of the journey. The majestic grandeur of the mountains cannot be expressed in more words while at the same time the wonderful engineering feats that made the road possible are certainly an education

It is of peculiar interest to western Canada, that an Alberta man, Mr. G. H. French, of the Wetaskiwin Times, was elected President of the C. W. N. A. succeeding Mr. J. Rupert Davies of Renfrew, Ontario.

The thanks of the C. W. N. A. are extended to the C. P. R., the C. N. R., the G. T. P. R. and the other railroads that made it possible for this splendid gathering to be held in such a beautiful place. To the speakers who helped make such an interesting programme and for the courtesies extended by the Lient, Governor, The Womens Press Club, the Canadian Club, Victoria Newspapermen, the B. C. Reception Committee the Mayor and citizens of the City of Vancouver.

New Brigden is the Place for Baseball

The national pastime is not confined to the men alone, by any means, at New Brigden, on Friday the 24th of June, the local ladies "went to the mat" with the male stick wielders, and according to all reports, showed the men just how the game should be played.

Just to give you an idea of the game, the score, after the dust had settled, stood 22 to 23 in favor of the feminine sex.

We regret we are unable to publish the box score or the list of those partaking in the game,

A regular meeting of the O. N. O. Girls Club will be held at the home of the Misses Anderson at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, July 6th.

The Imperial Oil outfit are making great headway with their up-to-date Standard Rig. A depth of fifteen hundred feet if reported from their location, and they are still carrying a large hole.

The Union

The heavy flow of water recently struck by this rig is still giving trouble. Special equipment was ordered some time ago to combat with this fault, but to date this has not arrived. As soon as it does, though, the men report they will make every one step out to keep up with them. Good luck, boys;

Mud Butte Co.

The Mud Butte Oils, Ltd., are erecting their derrick, and expect to be drilling in a very short while. They are confident that they will make very fast time, as it has been proven that their particular type of rig is the only one for this particular district.

General

Reports from the various outfit at present operating in the district, continue to be highly promising. It is learned on good authority, that more rigs are expected in the Monitor Field at an early date.

Owing to pressure on our space and type, we are unable, this week, to give any details about the splendid Sports Day. At the last minute we were asked to run the Red Cross postmortem ad on the back page and that sort of threw us off our feet a little. However, next week will endeavor to give a good write up of the different events.

Prelude.

Six little slates clattered into place, and six little figures stood erect between their benches.

"Right! Turn!" said the master. "March! School is dismissed!" and six pairs of bare little legs twinkled along the aisle, across the well-worn threshold, down the big stone step, and into the dusty road, warm with the rays of the Indian summer sun.

The master watched them from the open window until they vanished behind a ridge of beech trees that cut his vision from the concession. While they remained within sight a smile played upon the features of his strong, sun-burned face, but as the little calico dress was swallowed by the wood the smile died down, and for a moment he stood, a grave and thoughtful statue framed within the white pine casings of the sash. His sober grey eyes stared unseeing into the forest, while the light wind that stirred the golden maple leaves toyed gently with his unruly hair.

His brown study lasted only a moment. With a quick movement he walked to the blackboard, caught up a section of sheepskin, and began erasing the symbols of the day's instructions.

"Well, I suppose there's reward in heaven," he said to himself, as he set the little schoolroom in order. "There isn't much here. The farmers will pay a man more to doctor their sick sheep than to teach their children. But, of course, they get both mutton and wool from a sheep. I won't stand it longer than the spring. If others can take the chance I can take it too. If it were not for her I would go to-morrow."

The last remark seemed to unhook a new chain of thought. The grey eyes lit up again. A life wheeled before him briskly for a minute, then tossed it in a corner, fastened the windows, slipped a little folder into his pocket, locked the door behind him, carefully placed the key under the stone step where the first child in the morning would find it, and swung in a rapid stride down a by-path leading from the little schoolhouse into the forest.

Ten minutes' quick walking in the woods, now glorious in all their autumn splendor, brought him to a point where the sky stood up, pale blue, evasive, through the trees. The next moment he was at the water's edge, and a limpid lake stretched away to where the forests of the farther shore mingled hazily with sky and water. The point where he stood was a little bay, ringed by water-worn stones, and hemmed around by the forest, except for one wedge of blue that broadened into the distance. He glanced about, as though expecting someone, he whistled a line of a popular song, but the only reply was from a saucy cavedropper which, perched on a nearby limb, trilled back its own liquid notes in answer.

"I may as well improve the moments consulting my chart," he remarked to his undulating image in the water. "This thing of embarking on two new seas at once calls for skillful piloting." He seated himself on a stone, drew from his pocket the folder, and spread a map before him.

In a few moments he was so engrossed that he did not hear the almost noiseless movement of a canoe as it thrust its brown nose into the blue wedge before him. The canoe slid with its own momentum gracefully through the quiet water, suddenly revealing a picture for the heart of any artist. Kneeling near its stern, her paddle held aloft and dripping, her brown arms and browner hair glistening in the mellow sun, her face bright with the light of its own expectancy, was a little and beautiful girl. In an instant her eye located the young man on the bank, and her lips moulded as though to speak; but when she saw how unobserved she was she remained silent and upright as an Indian while the canoe slipped gently toward the shore. Presently it cushioned its nose in the velvety sand. She rose silently from her seat, and stole on moccasined tip-toes along the stones until she could have touched his hair with her fingers. But her eyes fell over his shoulder on the papers before him.

"Always at your studies," she cried, as he sprang eagerly to his feet. "You must be seeking a professorship. But I suppose you have to be always brushing up," she continued, bantering. "Your oldest pupil must be late to me—no less than eight."

He smothered her banter with his affection, but she stole the map from his fingers.

"I declare, if it isn't Manitoba! What next? Siberia or Patagonia? I thought you were still in the Eastern Townships."

"So I am—in school. But out of school I am spending a good deal of my time in Manitoba, Mary."

She caught a grave note in his voice as he said her name. Seizing his cheeks between her hands she turned his face to her. "Answer me, John Harris. You are not thinking of going to Manitoba?"

"Suppose I say I am?"

"Then I am going too!"

"John! Nothing unusual about a wife going with her husband, is there?"

"No, of course, but you know—"

"Yes, I know—glancing at the ring on her finger. "This still stands at par, doesn't it?"

"Yes, dear," he answered, raising the ring to his lips. "You know it does. But to venture into that wilderness means—you see, it means so much more to a woman than to a man."

"Not as much as staying at home—alone. You really don't think I would do that?"

"No, not exactly that. Let us sit down and I will tell you what I thought. Here, let me get the cushion. There, that's better. Now let me start at the beginning."

"Until you came here last summer—until all this happened, you know—I was quite satisfied to go on teaching."

"And I have sown discontent—"

"Please don't interrupt. Teaching seemed as good as anything else."

"As good as anything else! Better than anything else, I should say. What is better than training the tender child, inspiring him with your ideals—"

"Oh, I know all about that. Until I began to have some genuine ideals of my own I was satisfied with it. But now—well, everything is different."

"I know," she answered. "The salary won't support two. There's the rub."

They sat for some minutes, gazing dreamily across the broad sheet of silver.

"And so you are going to Manitoba," she said at length.

"Yes, there are possibilities there. It's a gamble, and that is why I didn't want to share it with you—at first. I thought I would spend a year, locate a homestead; get some kind of a house built; perhaps break some land. Then I would come back."

"And you weren't going to give me a word in all those preparations for our future? You have a lot to learn yet, John. You won't find it in that soldier, either."

He laughed lightly—a happy, boyish laugh. For weeks the determination to seek his fortune in the then almost unknown Canadian West had been growing upon him, and as it grew he shrank more and more from disclosing his plans to his fiancée. Had she been one of the country girls of the neighborhood, a daughter of the sturdy backwoods pioneers, bred to hard work in field and barnyard, he would have hesitated less. But she was sprung from gentler stock. It seemed almost profane to think of her in the lonely life of a homesteader on the bleak, unsettled plains—to see her in the monotony and drudgery of the pioneer life. He had been steeling himself for the ordeal; schooling himself with arguments; fortifying his resolve, unconsciously, perhaps, with the picture of his own heroism in braving the life of the unknown. And she had scaled every breastwork at a bound, and captured the citadel by the adroit diplomacy of apparent surrender.

She had snatched his confession at an ungarded moment. He had not meant to tell her so much—so soon. As he thought over the wheels he had set in motion their possible course staggered him, and he found himself arguing against the step he contemplated.

"It's a gamble," he repeated. "The agricultural possibilities of the country have not been established. It may be adapted only to buffalo and Indians. These say the Selkirk settlers have seen hardships compared with which Ontario pioneers lived in luxury. We may be far back from civilization, far from neighbors, or doctors, or churches, or any of those things which we take as a matter of course."

"Then you will need me with you, John, and I am going."

She could not mistake the look of admiration in his eyes. "Mary," he said, "you are a hero. I didn't think it was in you. I mean I—"

"A heroine, if you please," she corrected. "But I am not that—not the least bit. I want to go because—because to go with you, even to Manitoba, is not nearly so dreadful as to stay at home without you."

"But come," said the girl, springing lightly to her feet, "we have matters of great moment for immediate consideration."

He was at her heels. One hand resting on his strong arm sufficed to steady her firm body as she tip-toed over the stones. Somewhere in the canoe she found a parcel, wrapped in a white napkin. Under a friendly beech she laid her dainties before him.

In a crimson glory the sun had sunk behind the trees, and across the lake. The silver waters had draped in mist their fringe of inverted trees along the shore, and the passive and breathing and ver—still beneath the smooth-cut—canoe.

One by one the stars came out in the heavens, and one by one their doubts swayed and mimicked in the lakes. A duller point of light bespoke a settler's cabin on the distant shore.

"And we shall build our own home, and live our own lives, and love each other—always—only, for ever and ever?" she breathed.

"For ever and ever," he answered.

A waterfall cut the air in his sharp, whistling flight. The last white shimmer of daylight faded from the surface of the lake. The lovers floated on, gently, joyously, into their ocean of hope and happiness.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Brilliant Scene Marks The Opening of Ulster Parliament

King George Makes Plea For Peace Between Two Branches of Irish Race.

Belfast.—The opening of the Northern Parliament by the King, who was accompanied by Queen Mary, was carried out with all the pageantry and ceremony with which formal actions of British sovereigns are surrounded. The King himself wore the uniform of an admiral, with the blue sash of the Order of the Garter across his breast, while the Queen, who looked extremely pale and nervous, was in white satin, without any insignia of her rank. But a string of pearls was about her neck and large clusters of diamonds and emeralds shone from her collar and brooch.

A real modern note was struck by the King's speech, which he read in a strong, clear voice, emphasizing the points which he wished to impress on the audience. His plea for peace and conciliation between the two branches of the Irish race fell on welcome ears, for in no part of Ireland is peace more desired than in Ulster, where business has suffered greatly by the strife throughout the country and by the Sinn Féin boycott of Ulster goods.

During the delivery of the King's speech the whole audience remained standing, with eyes fixed on their Majesties in golden chairs. Prior to this, prayers were said by the Primate of Ireland, Anglican, the Presbyterian moderator and the senior Methodist minister, thus all the religions represented in the Parliament were recognized.

The Nationalists and Sinn Féiners confined themselves to refraining from all participation in the ceremonies.

The King and Queen re-embarked on the royal yacht, receiving a noisy greeting from the shipyard workers.

The King conferred honors on a number of prominent Belfast men. Baron Pirrie was created a Viscount, and Lord Mayor Coates, a baronet. Robert Blair, "Blair of Blair," of the Belfast Telegraph and Trevor Henderson, director of the Belfast News, received knighthoods.

A CORDIAL INVITATION TO DISEASE

This is an apt description of Constipation. It's an unnatural condition to begin with—but it's dangerous because it leads to disease. It fills the system with poisons, brings on anaemia. You don't need a purgative, you don't want to weaken the system by a harsh gripping medicine—what you need is mild natural stimulant to the bowels. You get just what you need in Dr. Hamilton's Pills which tone up the liver, restore the bowels to perfect action and positively end constipation. You'll feel tip top after regulating your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Good for young and old—a real family medicine. 25¢ all dealers or The Cataract Co., Montreal.

Denounces Handling Of Immigrants

Director of Protective Association Says System Is Wrong.

Ottawa.—Denunciation of the system of handling immigrants arriving in Canada was again made by Abbe Philippe Casgrain, director of the Immigration Protective Association here. The abbe cited instances where whole families have been deported and returned to the Old Country where they have no homes—now to go to, and where they must start life again under worse conditions than ever, having wasted their savings in a useless and expensive voyage.

The abbe suggested that some way should be devised of officially examining immigrants in the Old Country.

King George V., who, accompanied by Queen Mary, visited Belfast, and delivered a message to the Irish people.

Active Immigration Work Is Delayed

Settlers Will Not Be Brought In By Western Canada Colonization Association Until The Provinces Pass The Desired Land Listing Legislation. Preparatory Work Will Continue.

At a conference between the Eastern and Western Directors of the Western Canada Colonization Association it was decided that the successful functioning of the Association depends upon the working out of a joint land settlement plan under which the efforts of the Federal and Provincial Governments will be effectively co-ordinated. Nothing short of such a plan will afford this Association a real basis upon which to carry out the vital national undertaking for which it was created. It is felt that the organization would be unwise to expend a large amount of money in securing high-class settlers only to find the lands increased in price on their arrival. It is realized that all promises and statements made to intending settlers must be fully carried out.

Until these suggestions are given effect so that there will be a reasonable assurance of results in actual land settlement, the directors do not feel justified in authorizing the expenditure of privately subscribed money which would necessarily be involved in a first year's programme. The obligations of the Association to voluntary financial supporters of this movement are such that it must spend funds generously donated until the pathway of effective colonization is reasonably clear.

In the interval which must elapse before the proposals can be put into effect the Association will continue to press for the co-ordination and legislation necessary, and endeavor to complete the full subscription list of $150,000. The directors hope that the Federal Government will be represented at a proposed conference of Western Premiers and that as a result a uniform plan will be put into operation which will solve the unoccupied land problem and enable the Association to get to work.

Before leaving for Vancouver the Managing Director, Major-General A. D. McRae, C.B., made a brief statement to the press, in the course of which he said:

"I agree with the decision unanimously reached by the Eastern and Western Directors after the most serious consideration of all the circumstances. I am very proud of the splendid support which I have received from the members of the Board, particularly in regard to my land listing plan. In their view, as in mine, the legislation asked from the three Prairie Provinces is absolutely necessary to success. This or similar legislation must be put into effect before the unoccupied land problem is solved. The participation of the Federal Government is most essential. During the interval the association, of course, will have no need for the services of a Managing Director in charge of actual colonization work. Although retiring from my connection with the Association I have agreed to assist in pressing for the proposed legislation before the coming conference of Western Premiers. Knowing something of past immigration movements to the prairies I make bold to say that if given the proper basis to start on the Western Canada Colonization Association has within it the power to greatly assist the Governments in the colonization of our unoccupied lands."

People Give Haig Ancestral Home.

London.—Barnesville, near Melrose, Scotland, the ancestral home of Field Marshal Earl Haig, and from which he takes a part of his title, has been purchased by public subscription and has been formerly handed over to him. His Lordship, in a moving letter of thanks, said: "An old dream of mine rather than a hope has been realized in this gift."

Interest Shown In British Census

Statisticians Believe Population Has Grown Despite War Losses.

London.—Statisticians are looking forward with unusual interest to the returns of the British census, wondering what the war has really done to the British Isles. They believe the population has grown appreciably despite war losses, largely because emigration was checked by the war.

The first British census was taken in 1801 and has been repeated every ten years since then. This is, therefore, the thirteenth census of British Isles. Over 38,000 enumerators are engaged.

Settlers For B. C. Will Be Selected

Choicest Lands In Province Offered As Inducement.

Victoria.—Head picked settlers are to be brought to British Columbia in large numbers to fill up the vacant lands in northern and central parts of the province, according to plans just completed by owners of large areas, it is stated. Most of the owners of these lands are in England.

Some of the choicest lands in British Columbia will be offered settlers, who will be given their choice of locating in the Bulkley or Nechako valleys, or in the Vanderhoof, Prince George and Lillooet districts.

Heart Weak, Nerves Shattered After the "Flu."

In a large majority of cases those who survived the last epidemic of Spanish influenza were left with weak hearts, shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and the whole system has been left in such a general weakened and exhausted condition that it has been impossible to get back your old health and strength.

If you are in this condition there is only one thing to do: take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and see how quickly your heart will be strengthened, your nerves toned up and your blood enriched.

Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was left with a weak heart and in a rundown condition from the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains in my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one box I got relief; after taking six boxes have been well and not bothered since." The furs were untouched, being wrapped up in canvas, but half of a beautiful cow buffalo robe and half a rabbit skin robe were eaten. Never mind, I was too pleased to see the dogs again, so rewarded the boy handsomely and returned to Fairford in great style next day, the dogs in as good a humor as myself; and then I promised never again would we admit a stranger to our ranks.

When Chief Factor Archie McDonald ordered me to take charge of the Fairford Post, his instructions were to complete the new master's house as soon as possible. Then I was to remove everything of value in the old fort and burn the buildings, which had been up for many years. I was rather curious to know the why and wherefore as to burning the place, so asked him his reason. "Oh," was his reply, "there are some fool stories current at Fairford—as to them being haunted, for some bloody rooks took place there in the old drinking days."

Well, I reached Fairford all right and took possession of the place. I put an extra man or two on the new building and after settling down began making a few cautious inquiries as to what shape (if any) the spooks were supposed to take. Very little satisfaction was given me, but I noted that Indians and the usual hangers on did not like to be near or in the post after dark.

This establishment was built in the usual way in the form of a quadrangle and surrounded with a wall of hewed timber, at one end of the square the master's house and on each side various store houses, while the front was shut with the wall and large gates. The native men's houses stood at some distance away outside the enclosure. I and my cook, a Lewis man named Malcolm, were the only occupants of the fort at night; not though the only ones, as I always had my four famous dogs, Herod, Nero, Moro and Hero, who, if anyone touched me, would have had a bad time of it, as they were exceedingly fierce if set on to any person or animal. I forgot to mention that a platform of heavy sawn planks ran all round the square and most of these were old and rotten so one had to be careful in stepping for they would tip up and come down with a bang.

One evening, when the place was all quiet, Malcolm came in from the kitchen and I saw by his embarrassed manner that there was something on his mind. "Well, sir, master," and that was as far as he could get. However, I encouraged him, and bit by bit the truth came out. He wanted to go and sleep in the men's houses, and on asking his reasons, he said he kept hearing noises at night and also felt things moving, though he could see nothing. He hated to go and leave me alone, but he could not sleep the way things were going on. I finally told him he could go, and after his departure made a careful inspection of the whole premises and saw that all gates were closed and barred. Then, calling my dogs into the hall, I overhauled an old shot gun and loaded it heavily with powder and plenty of wadding, as I thought some attempt might be made through the night to scare me off the premises.

My room was at the front of the house, the window overlooking the square. This I left partly raised but pulled down the blind. Then, placing the gun handy, I blew out the candle and went to bed, the time being near midnight. Just as I was falling asleep I heard a heavy tramping noise coming round the square on the platforms, and I was out of bed like a flash, cocked my gun, and waited developments. The heavy tramping came right on past my window but there was nothing visible, though the night was light enough to see the other buildings plainly. It may have been imagination, but as the noise passed the window I thought I could detect a draught of cold air. Well it is no use disguising the fact that I felt creeped, but just then I thought of my dogs. The noise in the meantime had stopped, so I waited quietly for a repetition, and this came in a few minutes. The same heavy tramping started apparently close to the main fort entrance, then along past the Pemican store, then turning and coming right in front of my window. With that I threw the front door open and set the dogs on it. Out they went with furious growls, and back they came again, hair bristling up, and evidently cowed, as they retreated into the corner and would make no response when I urged them out again. Again, as I had followed them out, I could see nothing, but this time distinctly felt a cold draught air pass. The dogs either felt or saw something that scared them, and it may be the brute creation is more sensitive to non-visible auras or whatever name it or they might be called than the human kind, or has civilization dulled our perceptive faculties.

It was several weeks before the new residence was ready for occupancy, and during this time I constantly heard the same heavy trappings and other noises, and there was no doubt the dogs were affected, as generally they were joyous creatures always ready to sport or play with me. However, as no ill-effects occurred, I became used to the racket and yet was glad enough after vacating the premises to put a torch to the old fort.

During the same winter a mysterious light accompanied me for some hours on Lake Manitoba, which by the presence, affected my fearless dogs in the same way, but this I have described fully in a former article, entitled Indian Witchcraft.

Automobile Price Reductions Of Western Interest

All-Canadian Car Proves Itself.—New Rock Levels Anticipate Quantity Reduction.

Western Canada development depends so much upon the extended use of motor cars that recent price reductions interest someone in practically every family in the West. That, for instance, of the new Overland to less than a thousand dollars at the Toronto factory is of wide importance.

New rock-bottom levels were calculated to be necessary if a complete return to normal conditions was to be accomplished. In the case of the company making the car cited, normal conditions involve factory production on a large scale.

This quantity production was attained last year. It will be remembered that when the Overland Company introduced the Model Four, the radical departure in spring suspension was looked upon as a marked development in light car construction. Much was, therefore, expected of this All-Canadian car. It has now had a year's proving by thousands of Canadian owners, who bought it for its appearance and its quite evident engine efficiency and comfort. They have found it also possessed of unexpectedly great handling and economy. Getting 25 to 30 miles to the gallon of gasoline appears to be the average experience of owners—some reporting even 35 miles. Ten to fourteen thousand miles with a single set of tires is also common, so that the All-Canadian car has thoroughly proved itself, perhaps nowhere more than in Western Canada.

The 1921 car has many improvements and according to Willys-Overland officials, they expect a demand sufficient to keep the factories busy right along. In fact, it is stated that it is upon this expectation that they have based their new prices. Reports from both Winnipeg and Regina branches of this company show a marked stimulation in business during the very first month of the reductions.

Farmers Have Conference With Education Department

Important discussion on educational affairs—Resolutions of approval are passed.

The joint educational committee of the U. F. A. and the U. F. W. A. held its first official conference with the Minister of Education and Officials of the Department in Edmonton, June 17th. A very full and satisfactory discussion took place regarding all phases of rural school problems. The efforts of the Department to provide High School opportunity for rural children were strongly approved as was also the general attitude of the Department in defending the autonomous rights of schools boards. The members of the Committee made many helpful suggestions and declared their support of any plan that would equalize the educational burden throughout the Province.

After the Conference the members of the Joint Committee met in the Corona hotel and passed the following resolutions which were forwarded to the Minister of Education.

That we are in favor of the authorized form of teachers' contract with an amendment to clause 5 regarding termination of agreement, making this clause reciprocal and providing, in the event of either party breaking the contract, a minimum penalty equal to one month's salary.

That we favor the principal of the conciliation board.

That we express our approval of the increase in the number of examination centres.

That we are in favor of plan of procedure now followed in forming consolidated schools as outlined to us by the Minister of Education.

That we are glad to note that the number of official trustees has been materially reduced.

That we are in favor of a system of Provincial taxation for educational purposes.

The report was signed by P. Baker, Ponoka, Chairman Mrs. S. M. Gunn, Paradise Valley, Secretary Stephen Lunn, Pincher Creek, Henry E. Spences, Edgerton.

Buy Cascara Bark

Grows in B.C. Can Build Up Large Business.

Recently 5,000 tons of Cascara bark was shipped from Vancouver to British and United States markets. Reports from the United States drug centres say that a great industry awaits the growers of Cascara shrubs and Cascara bark on the British Columbia sea coast.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh hinders them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. Circulars free.

Boston Or Bust

A lecturer in Boston told his audience that the earth is 360,000,000,000 miles away from the centre of the universe. That was a very nervous thing to say in a town which calls itself the hub.—Detroit Free Press.

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Earnest Clark, Police Officer, 335 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine relieved me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

Gambling in long distance telephone calls is the latest industry in France. The number of phones is so inadequate that speculators have been buying up long distance calls in advance and holding them to retail at fabulous prices.

Nation-wide Fame. — There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Sir:—I have used your MINARD'S LINIMENT for the past 21 years and when I have occasionally used other liniments I can safely say that I have never used any equal to yours.

It rubbed between the hands and inhaled frequently it never failed to relieve cold in the head in 24 hours. It is also the best for bruises, sprains, etc.

Yours truly,
J. G. LESLIE,
Dartmouth.

Arctic Explorer Returns

Amundsen is Back After Winter With Icebound Steamer.

Captain Amundsen arrived at Nome, Alaska, recently. His ship, the Maud, which wintered at Cape Serge, Siberia, lost her propeller in the ice, and she is expected to reach Nome some time this summer for repairs. The explorer, noted for his discovery of the South Pole, and his many Arctic and Antarctic voyages, said he would continue his efforts next year to reach the North Pole by drifting with Arctic ice floes as soon as repairs to his vessel were completed. He spent the winter on board the Maud with one native and three white companions, and said the party experienced few vicissitudes. He reached Nome on the trading schooner Herman, which picked him up at East Cape, Siberia.

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

New Road for Peace River.

An agreement has been concluded with the Canadian Pacific Railway, by which that company will construct and operate the Central Canada Railway extension across the Peace River into the Waterhole district. When completed the new road will form part of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway.

DISCOVERED TRUE REMEDY FOR SYSTEMATIC CATARRH

A bad case of Catarrh is not an easy thing to treat, and a remedy that makes good, deserves great credit. Catarrhose certainly fixed up Chas. H. Webb, who writes from Woodstock: "For a number of years I was troubled with Systematic Catarrh. Nothing helped me very much. I used Catarrhose Inhaler and got relief. To build up my system, I used Ferrozone. This combination can't be beaten. They made me well. Your case may also be bad, but Catarrhose will do for you what it did for Mr. Webb. The two months' treatment $1.00, small size 50c. All dealers or the Catarrhose Co., Montreal."

ALMOST HELPLESS FROM ST. VITUS DANCE

The Muscles of the Hands, Face and Body Affected.

St. Vitus dance is a disease of the nerves brought on by a morbid condition of the blood. It is common with children, and attacks girls more frequently than boys. Irritability is frequently one of the first signs noted. The child frets, is quarrelsome and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease come a little later. The limbs and sometimes the whole body jerks spasmodically, and in severe cases the power of speech is affected. Such a child should be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet and a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help the blood restore the shattered nerves, and the value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the following statement from Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Windsor, N.S., who says: "When a young girl I suffered very severely from St. Vitus dance. I could not keep still for a moment. If I tried to handle dishes I broke them, and I could not safely attempt to hold a thing in my hands. No matter what was done for me I could not control the twitching in my face and body. My parents gave me several remedies, but they did not help me. Then one day my father brought home a half dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After two boxes had been taken the twitching improved in my condition. By the time the last box was gone, to my own great joy and relief to our family, my convulsions, and I have since enjoyed good health. I never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

I SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Paris, Ont.—"For five years I suffered from pains caused by displacement of my organs and in my back. All of this time I was unfit for work and was taking different medicines that I thought were good. I saw the advertisement in the papers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it faithfully. I am now in perfect health and do all my own work. I recommend it to others, and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers as a testimonial."

—Mrs. D. Cassin, Box 461, Paris, Ont.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Summer Frock Of Batiste

By Marie Belmont.

This charming dress is one that you could easily copy if you are at all gifted in the dressmaking line. The fabric from which it is evolved is a rose colored embroidered batiste which is extremely dainty. The bodice is cut on rather long-waisted lines that follow closely the lines of the figure. The skirt is unusually full and is finished with a scalloped hem. This is outlined with rose linen bands that are exceedingly fashionable. They are also used with equally good effect on the short sleeves and the neckline. A vestee of lace and a rose ribbon girdle complete this pleasing creation.

Lake Stocked With Fish.

The Dominion Fisheries Branch report during the season just closed shows that upward of 268,000,000 young whitefish were liberated in the Great Lakes and the Lake of the Woods. A large proportion of the eggs are secured from the commercial catch of fish which, but for activities of the department, would be wasted. The Sarnia hatchery this season sent 12,825,000 whitefish eggs to British Columbia.

Mr. Herbert Osborn Tells How Cuticura Healed His Wife

"My wife began to be troubled with itching and burning of the palms of her hands and the soles of her feet. Later the skin cracked and became flamed, making walking or even standing very painful and preventing sleep at night. Later it became necessary to bandage both hands and feet."

"She was treated but obtained no relief. She saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. She bought more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Herbert Osborn, 135 Sherbrooke Ave., Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 2, 1919.

Service Is Our Middle Name

GOOD IMPLEMENTS ARE ALWAYS GOOD BARGAINS

You could turn the soil into a seed bed with a spade; you could plant and cultivate with a hoe; you could harvest with a sickle, thresh with a flail, and carry your grain to market in a sack.

You could perform all of those operations at slight cost for the implements used.
But it wouldn't pay.

Our service makes it easy for you to get good implements. You can come to our store—take full advantage of our stock, study the implements, get fully acquainted with their every feature, and buy judiciously.
